John Ryan helps privately held companies and executives transfer risk through insurance solutions. He specializes in long-term relationships, ensuring every client has the best possible protection at the best possible price.

CAL doesn't sell insurance; they buy it.

John sees himself as a broker in the truest sense of the word, purchasing policies and programs from different carriers to best meet clients' needs. CAL buys insurance on your behalf; they don't sell it. John's team has expertise in a wide range of insurance products and coverages to ensure you have the right advisors, solutions and protection. They are known for asking — and answering — a lot of questions to determine your needs and expectations. Then they exceed them.

Deep experience means better outcomes.

John has spent 25 years in the insurance industry and is an expert in the group benefits insurance marketplace. He founded Baybenefits Insurance in San Francisco in 1999 and sold it to NFP in 2013. John has designed or restructured employee benefits programs for 1,000+ clients. He offers a unique, valuable perspective, providing ongoing consultation, education and updates on new issues. He uses his wealth of experience to advocate for the best results for his clients, taking pride in having one of the highest client-retention rates in the Bay Area. John's team will make sure your benefits are exceptional.

John is active in the insurance industry, having served as vice president of legislation for the California Association of Health Underwriters. He is a member of ProVisors, National Association of Health Underwriters and the Employee Benefits Council.

The best coverage and the best service at the best price.

Whether you need a fresh take on one policy or an overhaul of your entire portfolio, John and his team of experts access a full spectrum of services and insurance products to craft creative, yet sensible, solutions. Their longstanding relationships with carriers translate to bottom-line advantages for clients. Your team at CAL vets policy language and negotiates on your behalf to ensure you get the best coverage at the lowest cost.

Your protection, well-being and satisfaction are John's priority. Whatever your needs are, he will be happy to discuss how CAL Insurance can help you buy better protection and risk management for your business.
